ROAST

FACULTY FAREWELLS

Top left; Barbara Grayum looks over the home economics for the last time. Mrs. Grayum has been instructing students in home economics, sewing, and bachelor living from 1967 when she first came to AHS. Middle Left; Kim Calcagno looks for the camera. We are regretfully losing Miss Calcagno due to budget cuts. She has been teaching history and social studies courses for the past 2 years. Middle right; Diane Heath helps Kim Perkins with another difficult assignment. Miss Heath has been teaching typing and business machines for the past 2 years. Bottom left; Howard Hosley carefully checks over De De Williams test. Mr. Hosley has been the varsity football coach as well as an English and driver's education teacher for the past 2 years. Bottom right; Mrs. Abraham double checks Jim Harris's checkout sheet. Mrs. Abraham has only been with us for one year. Top right; Ace boxer Bob Scott muscles his way through the hall. Mr. Scott has taught chemistry, physics, general and higher mathematics as well as just general survival during his 32 years at AHS. We will miss Mr. Scott's fun humor and good teaching.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

The Varsity girl's team has done a great job this year. The girls practiced for two hours a day, five days a week. This led to a 8/9 win/loss record. Team-work was their success.

The Fisherettes went to the playoffs at St. Mary's. They lost but pulled through a tough game, scoring 1-15 on the first, 15-13 on the second, and 14-16 on the third game. The girls on the team voted Carla Bailey for The Most Valuable and Mary McAlpin for The Most Inspirational. Congratulations to all for a fine season.

STAFF

This is a special article of the Astor Post. It commemorates the 58th year of publication. In those 58 years, the A.P. has served the function of keeping students informed and interested in what was happening at Astoria High School. We who are a part of the staff this year are trying our best to uphold the fine tradition of journalistic excellence that always was set down by our predecessors.

We feel and hope that a paper such as the Astor Post plays a very essential role in any modern High School. First, of course, it is a fine learning experience for those on the staff. By trying to live up to the standards of good journalism, students learn to discipline themselves by having to meet deadlines. In this, a person is responsible not to a teacher, as in a writing assignment.

Journalism provides experience to get an indepth look at school activities and social events. The advisor, Mr. Russ Alborn has an excellent background and has been teaching the class for 20 years. Mr. Alborn is mainly an advisor, teacher. The students do the coverage of stories, pages, pictures and advertising.

Over the years changes have been made on the format and print. The Daily Astorian prints for the A.P.

Special issues, graduation, Homecoming and other issues are sponsored by the Astor Post. The paper itself is paid by ads and sponsors in and around the greater Astoria area. The Astor Post is a organization of students and news.

This student is responsible to his fellow student to get in a high quality story that the paper can be proud of.

The type of pressure that is felt by journalism students can be very burdensome, but it is richly rewarded every time that a paper comes off the press. Members of the staff know that they are all part of the production of a paper that most of the school reads and this gives them a sense of accomplishment. Besides the benefits that the Astor Post gives to these students on the staff, the paper contributes a great deal to the rest of the school. For one thing, it entertains. This is the function that many students feel is the most important. The A.P. is instrumental in informing people as to what is happening and gives merchants a chance to cater to the needs of students.

VARSITY DOES WELL AT STATE

The girls Basketball Team went to state as the Cowapa's #2 place team with Tillamook as #1. In the first game, the Fisherettes won 40-39 on Gail Dundas' last second layin. The second game Astoria lost to the soon-to-be State Champs, Central, by a score of 60-58. The next game Astoria defeated Glide 30-25, to set up their game for fourth place. They played Henely and lost a close one, 50-48, in over-time. Pictured left is Julie Lum going up for a short jumper. Above left is Gail Dundas shooting a free throw. Above is Chris Tarabochia shooting over tough Central defenders. Chris was selected for the Second Team All-Tourney.

SKI CLUB HITS THE SLOPES

This year the ski club visited three different ski resorts on Mt. Hood. They went to Multipor-ski bowl, Mt. Hood Meadows, and Timberline. Everytime the AHS skiers visited the mountain, there was fresh powder snow covering the slopes. The ski bus would leave the high school at 5 a.m. sharp and would return to Astoria about 9 p.m. at night. The whole day would be filled with fun and excitement. As soon as the bus got high enough up to have snow along the road everybody was up and ready for a big day of skiing. This year there were no broken bones despite some rather shaky accidents. Everybody in ski club had a great time up on the mountain. Left: Mt. Hood, full of snow and ready for those dare-devil skiers...

FISH HATCHERY

"SALMON ON THE RUN"

Salmon are hatched in a fresh-water stream. They spend part of their life in the salt water of the ocean. They then return to the fresh-water (almost the same spot as their parents spawned) for them to spawn. The female salmon turns on her side and digs a saucer-shaped nest in the gravel by swishing her tail back and forth. The female lays her eggs and the male fertilizes them with sperm. They repeat this several times. The female lays a total of 2,000 to 10,000 eggs. The eggs hatch after three or four months and the alevins lie hidden for several weeks. They feed on their yolk sac and plankton. Their journey has started for the ocean. A lot of salmon die from birds, fish and polluted water. Man has killed off a lot of salmon from dams and logging along the river banks. That is why a lot of fish are artificially spawned. They are so heavily fished by the sports, trollers, gillnetters and indians, that is why we have fish hatcheries like Astoria High School has to save the salmon. They now have 30,000 fall chinook fry that are in the big pond. They will be released in May. These fish feed on Bio-diet fish food. They are fed 2,500 grams a day. They are going to finn clip all the chinook this year. This way they can tell the difference between the other salmon. Only about 2% will return to Youngs Bay, but the gillnetters fish them all out. They also have 8,000 chum salmon less than a year old that they are using to breed with. Upper right: Tom Hilton & Marty Thorpe separate the dead eggs from the live eggs in the incubation box. Middle: Dean Nelson & Troy Biddle try to scoop up the fish from the tank to be moved to another. Bottom: Simo Nauha dips a trout, as it fights back. Mike Wullger tries not to get splashed.

WOOD FAB

The wood fab students have finished the housing project this year. It is located on 10th and Irving and is up for sale. It is a two story house with a two car garage basement. It has three bathrooms and a wood stove. It has a total of 2400 sq. feet. It has an excellent view of the Columbia River. The class now is working on knock-down barn type sheds that are for sale. The cost is around $800.00 a piece. They are 10 X 14. Some of the students have designed carpenter work tables. They have a vice, drawers and cabinets. They are on demand for the public. These work tables make the Black and Decker workmate look like a tinker toy.

Middle left: Matt Reinhardt finishing up on one of the work tables that the class designed. Middle right: Rafael Rubio saws a piece of wood to a size to fit one of the tables. This year the A-Club sponsored many activities to raise money for a new scoreboard. They were the hoop-shoot, selling kazooos, woodblocks, candy, and raffles. Sentry donated one dollar for every point scored by the varsity team at homegames to the A-Club. ABOVE: A-Club members turned out to cheer the team dressed as bleacher-creatures.

AHOY!

On May 18, Juniors Eric Hautala and Jim Thom left in the Wecoma, a nautical research vessel from OSU. Jim and Eric were the only two high school students on the vessel. They had to apply at OSU on a recent science club trip. Jim's and Eric's work was simply called CTD for short, or conductivity, temperature, and density measurement. It involves lowering a sensor anywhere from the surface to 3000 ff. and taking various readings of a sample of water. After 3 weeks on board the Wecoma, Jim and Eric would have done about 175 CTD's, recovered and cast ten current moorings, and cast seven surface drifters. Surface drifters are a small radio transmitter topped by two perpendicular sails that can be tracked from shore. The boat housed about 25 people, half crew and half research technicians. Among other things, Eric and Jim got to work with a computer on board, which Eric quickly mastered. They also met new people. They had ports-of-call in San Francisco and other places along the coast. Jim and Eric earned pay on the returning trip as a regular technician.

ROTARY EXCHANGE STUDENT FROM SOUTH OF THE BORDER

This past year Astoria High School had the honor of hosting Ignacio Javier Gil Valdes of Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico, as a Rotary Exchange student. While here, Ignacio, or Nacho as he was commonly called, lived with four different Astoria families. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Van Dusen, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jaques, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Andersen. At home in Mexico, Nacho has two brothers, Carlos age-14 and Arturo age 13. He also has a sister named Laura Guadalupe who is 15. Nacho's father is a banker while his mother takes care of the home. Nacho's interest include listening to music, playing golf, reading, playing basketball, and going to the movies. When Nacho returns to Mexico he plans on attending Instituto tecnologico y de Estudios superiores de Monterrey majoring in business administration.

A NORWEGIAN VISITOR

This past year John Larsen of Tyssedal, Norway had the opportunity of staying with the Blair family of Astoria. John attended Astoria High School where he met new friends and experienced the different culture of our school and community. John's host brother Bruce Blair also attends Astoria High School. Bruce is a freshmen and John is a junior. John found Astoria very similar in many ways to his own Norway. The climate of his town is somewhat like Astoria's and John's home town is all Norwegian but Astoria has a lot of Norwegian and other Scandinavian citizens.

3 CHOSEN TO PARTICIPATE

Pictured here are Janice Kent, Mr. Goin, and Tammy Hageman. What is Business Week? It is a program designed to bring 300 select high school students and 60 high school teachers from all over Oregon together to teach them about business operations and private enterprise systems. Janice Kent is a junior who is active in student government. She is a pepster and is also a member of the National Honor Society.

The students and teachers will learn about things such as private enterprise, our economic system, corporations, careers in business, and many other aspects of the business world. Any student who will complete either their sophomore or junior year in 1982 was eligible to apply. The 3 chosen from our school have demonstrated outstanding leadership qualities. Mr. Goin (middle) has been a teacher at A.H.S. for 7 years.

He teaches Personal Finance and Accounting, not to mention that he is our outstanding varsity basketball coach. Also selected was junior Tammy Hageman. She plays varsity basketball, volleyball, and baseball. She is the 1982-83 student body treasurer. This is the first year Astoria High has attended Oregon Business Week. This session was held July 25-31 at Western Oregon State College in Monmouth, Oregon.

BOYS' TRACK

GIRLS TRACK

The Girls Track Team did exceptionally well this year. There were really good marks and many school records made such as: Seine Chiang, in the long jump; she jumped 17.1 in Ilwaco. Our 400 Meter Relay team ran a 49.8 race in Cascade. Also in Cascade our mile-relay team broke the school record and ran a 4.17. The team was made up of Seine Chiang, Theresa Kostics, Michele Glackin, and Lee Boyd. Pictured above from left to right is the Astoria Girls Track Team; Front Row: Julie Boyd, Heidi Baker, Michele Glackin, Seine Chiang, Lisa Hendrickson, Lee Boyd, and Asst. Coach Miss Bondetti. Back Row: Asst. Coach Mr. Landwher, Anna Ciancaglini, Carla Bailey, Pam Ivanoff, Sue Glackin, Theresa Kostics, Deanne Story, Brenda Orand, and Head Coach Mr. Carl Dominey. Pictured Right: Heidi Baker and Michele Glackin, get ready to pull ahead as they reach the finish line. The Girls did very well in their meet with Neah-ka-nie. The score was

ELK'S YOUTH DAY

Each year, the Astoria Elks Lodge puts on an Elks Youth Day. Friday, May 21, 14 Astoria High School seniors joined students from other schools in the county to take over the jobs of city and county officials. Tami Parrish was Astoria's mayor, Anna Ciancaglini was the Astor Public Librarian, Pam Lum and Teresa Leach were bank managers, Anthony St. Martin went to K.V.A.S., Andy Marincovich served as County Sheriff, Scott Jacobson was director of the Job Corps. Center, Jeff Capellen, Eric Scott, and Tim Albarn, served as officials at city hall, John Doumitt was Superintendent of Public Schools, and Anna Amador was Astoria Fire Chief. Above right; Pam Lum works out finances for U.S. National Bank. Below; Tami Parrish and Anna Amador pose by a fire engine.

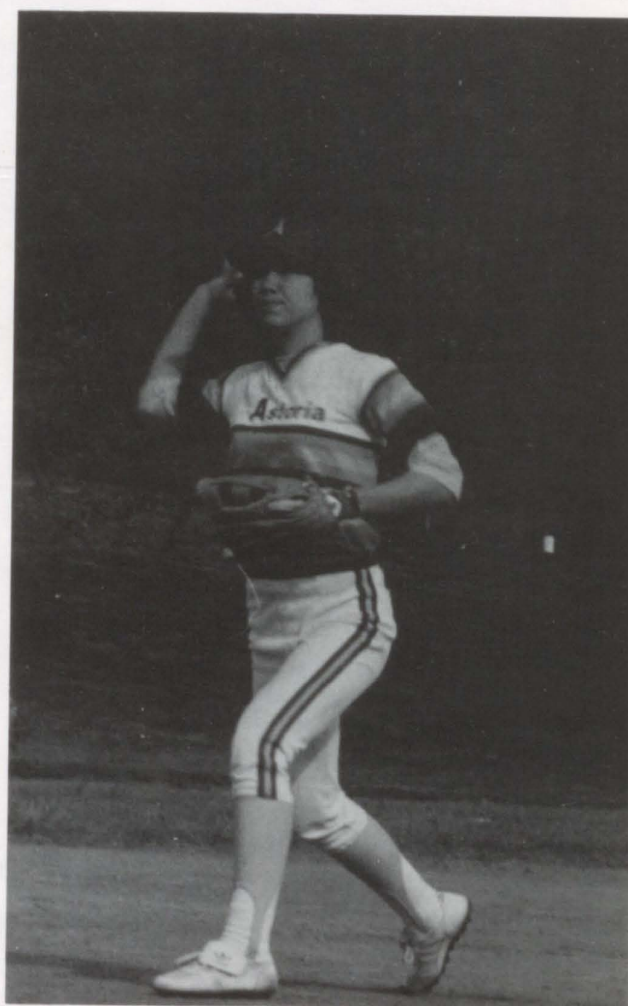

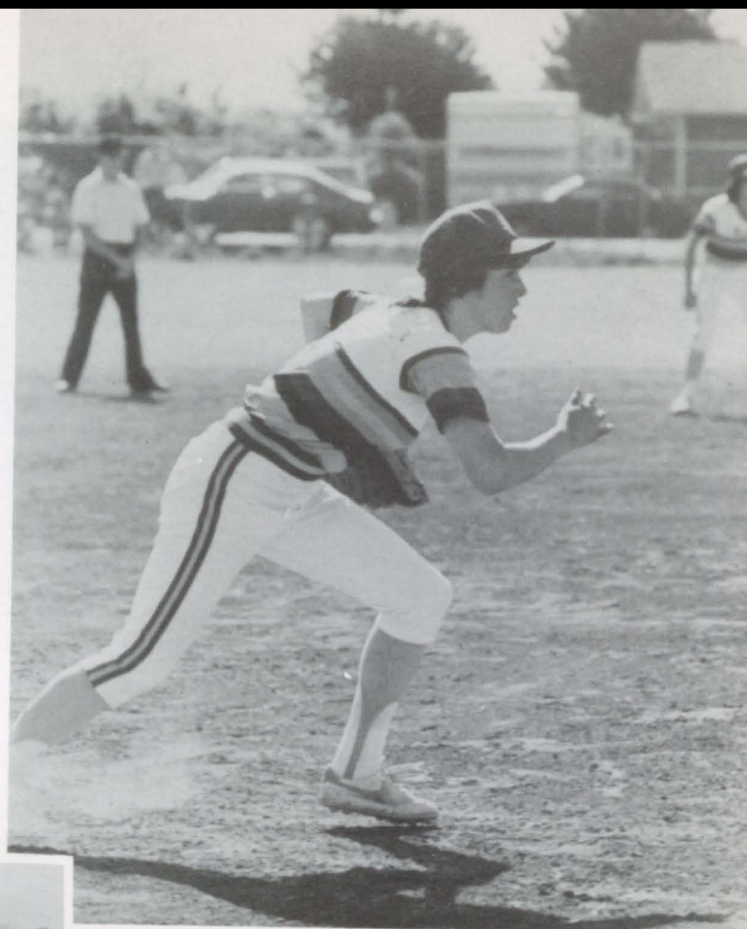

This years J.V. softball team did very well. They tied for second place in league, which was very good. The team was all sophomores, they were, from left to right manager Peter Gates, Missy Culver, Amy Nelson, Chris Amador, Char McBride, Kathy Law, Collen Tilly, Second row left to right Lori Brown, Melinda Hoffman, Lisa Hunsinger, Becky Talamantez, and Tony Nelson. Astoria Varsity girls softball was high in batting this year. They, most of the time, had very tight defense. Varsity went to state, one of the girls from the team said, "We out hit Central 8-6 but that wasn't enough to help us win." This years Varsity is losing three starters Gail Dundas Third base Denise Betts left field, and Mary McAlpine right field.

It was a rough year for the fighting fishermen, but there was a lot of talent shown. Four star players were kicked off for disciplinary reasons and the team felt the losses. J.V. players had to move up and fill the places. They received a lot of varsity experience for the next year.

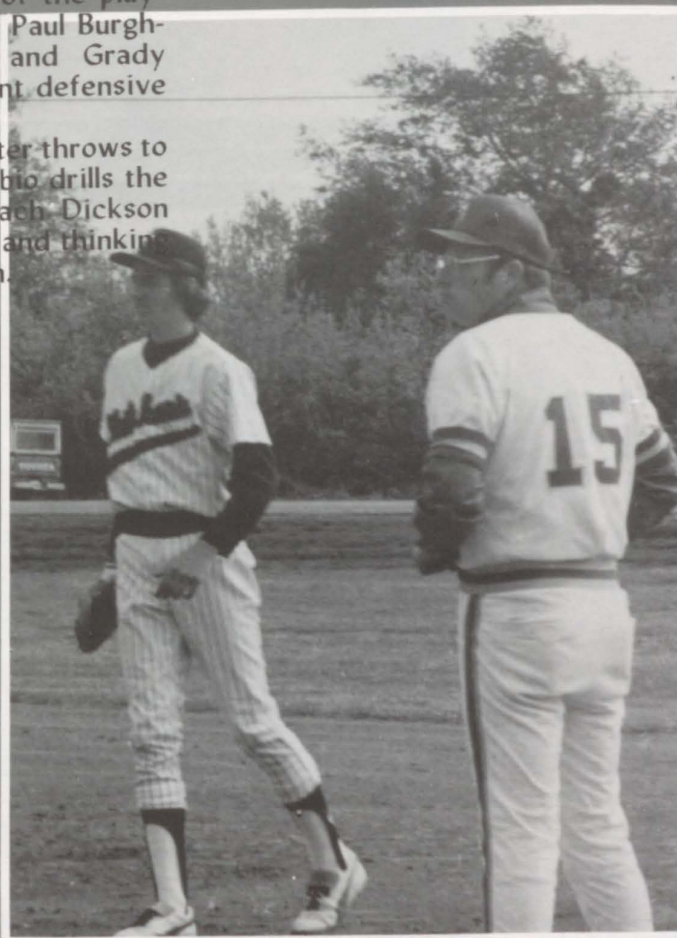

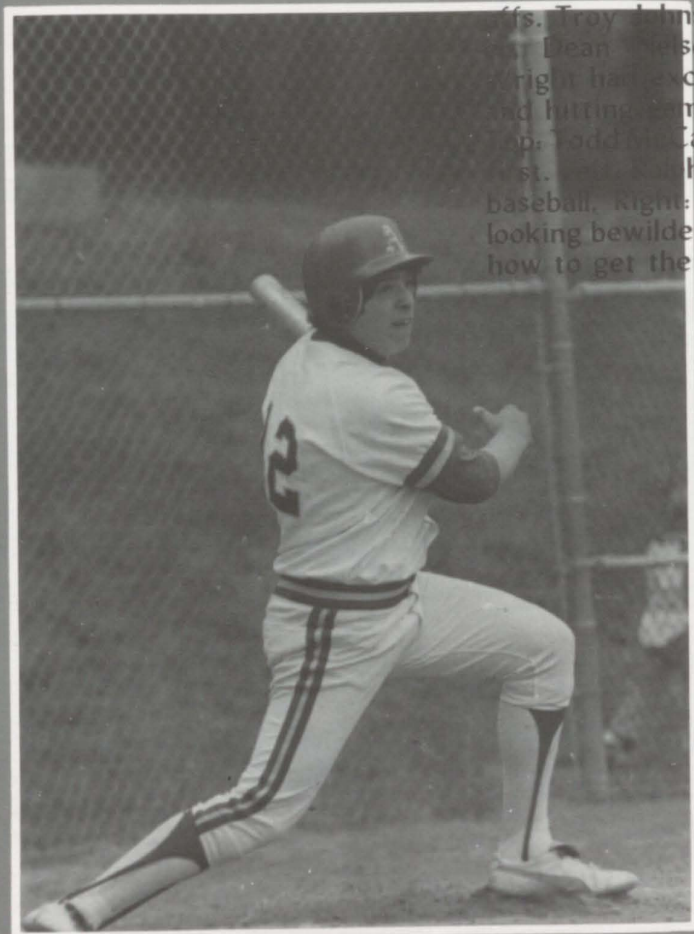

Left: Todd McCallister looks in disgust but he's ready to bat. Right: Paul Foster hum chucks the tablet for a good season for himself. Bottom: Darrin Bryan is ready for action on the field. There was a lot of action on first base this year.

Individual batting was good for the fighting fishermen. Three players were nominated for league batting averages. Todd McCallister with four home runs. Bill Keith with two home runs and Dan Reef with all around good batting. The fishermen upset Rainier and they were knocked out of the playoffs. Troy Johnson, Paul Burghes, Dean Nelson, and Grady Wright had excellent defensive and hitting games.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The 1982 Astoria Baseball team had a very inspiring year for first year coach, Jim Dickson. Dickson said his team was, "young and competitive with a bright outlook for the future." Seniors playing their last varsity season are: Von Ihander at shortstop, Dan Reef in the outfield, Bill Keith at second, Ralph Rubio pitching, and Todd McCallister at third and outfield. Todd was named by the team as Most Valuable Player and Ralph was given the bat award as Most Inspirational. Starting from the back row - left to right: Dan Reef, Garrett Heming, Ralph Rubio, Todd McCallister, Bill Keith, Paul Foster, Robbie Hoveden, Jeff Johnson, Jamie Hillard, Andy Westerberg, Pete Ferrero. Missing is Darren Bryan and Von Ihander.

GIRLS GOLF

This year's Girl's Golf Team had high hopes of beating Lakeridge and regaining the State Golf Title. The cold wet practices paid off with a 5-2 record. Astoria placed second at preliminaries and Districts, being beaten only by Lakeridge. The team placed 10th out of 18 at State, higher than any other double A team. Good job girls. Top left, 1982 Class Salutatorian Siene Chiang delivers her speech at graduation. Seine was an A.H.S. and Oregon scholar, she received honors of entrance at Whitman in addition to a scholarship from that school, and an A.H.S. Trust Scholarship. Top left, Ignacio Javier Gil Valdez from Mexico says good-by to Astoria. Above, Lisa Lillard receives her diploma from Mr. Kinder. Right, Stella Wouri plays her clarinet with the symphonic band during graduation. Another senior award winner included Jack Ficken who received a Board Scholarship from Clatsop and the Susie Jackson Memorial Scholarship.

Diana LeBlanc sings "The Way We Were" during graduation. Diana was accompanied by Steve Kuske on the piano.

Todd Longtain shakes the hand of Mr. Kinder, Chairman of the Board, while he receives his diploma.

How to move fragile things

(like antiques, glassware, and people)

When you move, we'll handle your belongings as if they were ours. The possessions you treasure will be wrapped, packed, and cushioned—whatever is necessary for their safe arrival in your new home.

And you'll arrive in better condition, too. Because we're experts, we'll relieve you of the worries and details of moving. That's why we're known as the people who move families . . . not just furniture.

Whew! Another year finally over. One thing we will remember most about this year at good old AHS is the fun we had in yearbook class. Pam and Bruce were the editors of the first yearbook class which met 4th period and Greg was the only editor of the second yearbook class which met during 5th period. It was a great learning experience for all of us and a fun one too.

We would like to congratulate everyone involved with the Zephyrus for a job well done: The Yearbook Staff Members, the uncounted photo guys, the students (victims of the photo guys), the 'AD' buyers, the gullible faculty members who let us out of class "to work on yearbook" and most of all our favorite guy, Mr. Michael Foster who puts out at least 120% of his time into teaching his students about yearbook.

We'll still love you Foz, no matter how many pages you make us do during the summer.

We hope you find this book entertaining when you first look through it and nostalgic when you look through it in 5 or 10 years. That has been our main goal from the start.
Goodbye,

Greg Berg Pam Lum Bruce Marriott

There is no other door to knowledge than the door
Nature opens; and there is no truth except the truths we discover in nature.

Luther Burbank
